

Product Overview

INV1010 is an IP-based Surveillance wireless Network Video Recorders (NVRs). It can be managed remotely via Internet or LAN/ wireless environment. It can also be integrated with Internet cameras (up to 4 units) and Internet monitor. Moreover, the NVR can be remotely accessed and can record live stream video simultaneously. The device is easy to use and install. Just simply connect it to router or switch on your home network, and the device will automatically communicate with linked cameras using default IP protocol. The device also has powerful built-in NAS feature. Users can backup, share, and print video media and audio files via SMB/CIFS protocols. It is definitely the best home/SOHO NVR server solution ever.
